

SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

Happy birthday to me.

Yep, today is that big day in my life—the anniversary of the day on which I first became a resident of Greencastle.

Although I have tried to keep secret the fact that today I am celebrating my birthday anniversary, the news of the big event leaked out, and as the result I received a number of most appropriate gifts. And I want to publicly acknowledge receipt of the following:

Office force—Alarm clock.
Ott Webb—Nursing bottle.
Don McLean—Cork screw.
O. W. Hollowell—Electric curling iron.

John Cartwright—Tire lock.
(Slightly used but serviceable.)
A. J. Duff—Box of matches.
City Marshal Dobbs—Sticker on my automobile.

John Cannon—Bill for the sex given me by my wife for a Christmas present.

Mark Kocher—Friendly handshake.

Dr. Ralph Overstreet—Picture of Little Jack Little.

Glenn Lyon—Nasty look.

My boy Jim—"Spank" for each year.

My Wife—Another pair of Sox.

Earl Sourwine—A nicker cigar—big hearted to the extreme.

Louis Hodshire—A ride on the court house elevator.

Fred Snively—A "happy birthday" postcard—one of the "Scotch" kind, which someone had sent him for Christmas.

Harry Brown—Information that all the peaches have been killed.

Even the Movies bring back old memories. Years ago out in Kansas City, my roommate, Ed Allen, dramatic critic for the Journal, and Lester Loneragan, then playing in "stock" in Kansas City connived to pick up a little extra money one summer by putting on an "all-fresco" attraction at city park. Ed was the business manager and Lester was the producer. Ed and Lester were great pals and everything went along fine, with the project until the opening night. Then, just as the big show was about to start, some "mischievous" boys cut the guy ropes, which held the canvas wall around the "open air" theater. Down went the wall. Driven from the scene by police, the boys retreated to a hill, back of the stage and showered the actors and actresses with anything they could get hold of to throw. News of the event reached the Journal office before Ed and Lester made their appearance after the fiasco, and the boys were all ready and waiting when they arrived. A story had been written which told graphically of the "all-frescoed" performance out at Troost Park. For the story explained, the all-fresco affair had been transformed to an "all-frescoed" performance, the actors being "frescoed" with the juice and pulp of the fruit showered upon them. Of course the story was not printed, but Ed and Lester sure got a real "razing." This is brought to mind by the fact that the same Lester Loneragan is in the case of a picture showing this week at the Granada.

KING GEORGE
OPENS ARMS CONFERENCE

ENGLAND'S RULER OPENS SESSION OF FIVE POWERS WITH GREETING

DELEGATION HEADS SPEAK

Inspiring Spectacle Staged in Gallery of House of Lords—Speakers Warn of Difficulties

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
International News Service Staff Correspondence

LONDON, Jan. 21.—In the glittering golden-hued royal gallery of the House of Lords, which through the years has seen history-making of a far different sort, five powers inaugurated this morning the most ambitious attempt to limit navies that the world has seen since the historic Washington conference.

Today's opening was in startling direct contrast to Washington, where the then Secretary of State Charles Evans Hughes electrified the world with his sharp admonition to the powers to reduce their navies or be out-built by the United States.

There was no such peremptory beginning today—instead King George of England opened the session with a hospitable and innocuous greeting which was followed by the heads of each government professing their loyalty to the cause of disarmament, but significantly calling attention to the manifold difficulties.

One after another Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, Premier Andre Tardieu, Dino Grandi and Reijiro Wakasuki arose and solemnly pledge their most efforts for success and pleaded for good will and confidence as indispensable.

And all reminded their colleagues of the shoals ahead.

It was a beautiful and inspiring spectacle. Behind the horseshoe table where the delegates sat was an enormous fresco depicting the death of Admiral Nelson at Trafalgar, and facing this a companion fresco showing Wellington meeting Blucher after Waterloo—a warlike setting for such a tremendous undertaking in behalf of peace.

Nearly eight hundred persons filled the gallery. Of these thirty were the principal delegates and scores of technical advisers, three hundred newspaper correspondents, peers, British officials and others, but out beyond these the whole world listened in through the greatest world-wide radio hook-up ever attempted. Far away New Zealand heard as well as the nearby continent.

As host to the conference, Premier MacDonald outlined the aims of the Parley immediately following King George's speech of welcome, stressing the most vital necessity of success. Unless naval competition stopped, he warned that the whole world was travelling the same road which led to 1914.

With this he made a special plea for special consideration of Britain's position as an Island Empire, more dependent upon sea-power than any others.

Premier MacDonald, who took over chairmanship of the epochal conference as soon as King George had concluded his brief speech of welcome began his address with a note of stern warning that naval competition among the powers of the world was already under way, and that if a stop was not put to it immediately, the events which led to the outbreak of the world war would see themselves duplicated again.

He urged that the delegates reach an agreement that could form the basis for a general disarmament conference at a later date, and called upon the nations of the world to respect their pledges under the Kellogg pact.

"This agreement," he said with emphasis, "must put a stop to the competition which has already begun to show itself both in types and numbers of ships."

"If we are not careful we shall once more be involved in feverish competition such as heralded the outbreak of the war in 1914."

Each of the other chief delegates then spoke in turn setting forth his nations views on the subject of disarmament and pledging themselves

From A Rodman To The Presidency Of Railroad

The career of Lawrence (Larry) A. Downs, born in Greencastle, where he spent his early years, reads like a fairy tale. Following his education in the Greencastle public schools, DePauw and Purdue university, he accepted a position as a rodman—the handy man for a surveying party, at $60 a month with the Illinois Central railroad. Today he is the president of that great railway system. Mr. Downs comes Thursday to be the guest of DePauw University. At noon, Thursday, he will be the guest of Kiwanis and Rotary at a joint luncheon.

KIWANIS HAS 15TH BIRTHDAY

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Kiwanis International will be fifteen years old on January 21st. Its birth-place is Detroit, where a group of business men held the first Kiwanis meeting back in 1915.

From one club the organization has grown until at present there are 1,840 clubs with a membership in excess of 102,000. Clubs are located in all parts of the United States and Canada.

Horace W. McDavid, of Decatur, Illinois, president of Kiwanis, in a special message to the membership today, stressed the need of the organization taking a greater recognition of the present day social problems. "Kiwanis has made a splendid contribution to the community life of the United States and Canada," he declared. "But as a service organization we need to have the thought deep in our consciousness that we still face great social problems."

Fred C. W. Parker, of Chicago, executive secretary, announced that the organization has a sound structure and an excellent outlook for 1930. "Kiwanis has leadership that is unusually devoted and efficient, a membership that is stable and intelligent, loyal to the organization, objectives that challenge most worth while and timely activities, and achievements in civic service and community betterment that are remarkable in scope and volume," he stated.

Activities for clubs during the coming year will include: underprivileged child assistance, instruction in citizenship, development of business standards, urban-rural relations work, vocational guidance and placement for students, and many other diversified endeavors. During 1929 over 35,000 individual social and civic activities were accomplished by all the clubs.

ACTIVITIES BY BROTHERHOOD

MOVEMENT IN METHODIST CHURCH IS TO BE DISCUSSED BY E. POW BANCROFT AT MEETING HERE IN FEBRUARY

E. Dow Bancroft, the layman who is one of the Field Secretaries of the Methodist Brotherhood is to be at the Methodist Church in Greencastle on Monday, February 10.

Mr. Bancroft represents a movement which is assuming gigantic proportions in the Methodist Church. Two day Area Councils attended by from five hundred to five thousand men have been held in all the Areas of other churches. The Brotherhood organization, District Councils of one day are now being held or planned in most of the districts. These are addressed by some of the greatest leaders of the Methodist Church and of other churches. The Brotherhood Staff, under the direction of the Executive Secretary, Dr. Bert Edward Smith, is engaged in organizing the men of the entire Methodist Episcopal church into local chapters or Clubs, District Brotherhoods, Annual Conference Brotherhoods and Area Councils. The response indicates a greatly increased interest on the part of the men to the challenge being given them to undertake a program of their own.

The women of Methodism have long been notable for their efficient organizations. The great Women's Foreign Missionary Society and Women's Home Missionary Society have carried work by and for women around the world and into the byways of American life. Every Methodist Church has its Ladies Aid Society. Now the men are intent upon forming an organization which shall be both general and local and shall accomplish some of the things that men ought to be doing in an organized way.

At the head of the movement is the Methodist Men's Work Commission, with Edgar T. Welch, President of the Welch Grape Juice Company, as President. Lieutenant-Governor Lauren D. Dickinson of Michigan and Branch Riekey, Vice President and Manager of the St. Louis Cardinals are the Vice-Presidents. Judge H. R. Snively of Marshall, Illinois is secretary. Among the other members of the commission are: Senator Allen of Kansas, Senator George W. Dixon, of Chicago, Bishop Thomas Nicholson, of Detroit, and twenty-three other of the leading laymen and ministers of the church.

The special activities for men which are undertaken by the Brotherhood include: Evangelism, Boys' Work, Stewardship and World Service, Men's Bible Class, Lay Speaking, Community Service, and World Peace and Race Relationships.

As a special help in the organization of a program of work for the men of every Methodist Church a new program book called "How" has just been published. This contains programs for monthly meeting and activities which are very practical and very much worth while. The program for February for example, includes a Father and Son Banquet, a Lads and Dads Pow-wow, and a Men and Boys Sunday at church. In July a picnic is to be arranged. Its nature may be inferred from the subtitle "Making Worthwhile Whoopee."

It is for the promotion of this program of Men's Work that Mr. Bancroft is making his present trip. To inform the men of what is planned and what is being done in other places and to move them to take up their own share of responsibility. All men will be welcomed to these meetings which are for men exclusively.

Announcement has been made of the marriage of Claude A. Webb, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Webb, Marion township, who is employed at the International Cement Co., plant and Miss Lillian Edith Clarkson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter E. Clarkson of Rushville, which occurred last Thursday in Greencastle. The bride is a nurse at the Putnam County Hospital. The young couple will make their home in Greencastle.

AN APPEAL FOR AID FOR FLOOD STRICKEN

With more than 900 families destitute in the southern Indiana flood district, immediate relief must be supplied. Added to the suffering from hunger and cold, the fear that pneumonia will attack many of the stricken.

In behalf of these families the Putnam County Red Cross, through its Chairman, the Rev. Victor Raphael, has asked the people of this community to assist in the state wide relief movement. Checks or money can be left at either of the local banks. Checks would be made payable to Roy Abrams, treasurer.

WAR VETERANS TO BANQUET ON FRIDAY NIGHT

COUNTRY CLUB TO BE SCENE OF AFFAIR AT WHICH PAUL McNUTT WILL BE THE SPEAKER—LARGE ATTENDANCE IS ANTICIPATED

The movement fostered by the Chamber of Commerce, to secure for Greencastle the proposed Indiana Unit of the Veteran's Hospital, for which the Government already has made a large appropriation, will take on momentum, Friday evening, with a banquet at the Country Club, at which all War Veterans will be guests. Paul McNutt of Bloomington, one of the outstanding young men of the state and nationally known as a leader in American Legion work has been secured as the speaker of the occasion.

The dinner is given to arouse interest in the movement of the American Legion to build up a large membership for the Greencastle chapter of the organization. A large American Legion chapter will be a big asset in making the campaign to secure the hospital for Greencastle.

All War Veterans are invited to attend the banquet. To others who desire to attend there will be a charge of 50c. Tickets may be secured from Miss Helen Black at the First National bank.

BUYS TELEPHONE COMPANY STOCK

LADOGA, Jan. 16.—The stock of the Ladoga Telephone company which was owned by the estate of Henry Allen Foster, was purchased Tuesday by Sarah F. Stanley and reconstruction work will start at once on the system wrecked by the heavy sleet storm.

The heavy loads of poles and wires are a total loss and will have to be rebuilt with entirely new material.

This will be very expensive and will require much excess labor especially at this season of the year. They will reestablish telephone service as soon as possible with favorable weather. It is hoped to have the rural district connected in three or four months.

INDIANA UNIVERSITY DEAN IS DEPAUW CHAPEL SPEAKER

Dean Smith of Indiana university was the chapel speaker at the University today. Dean Smith and Dean Dirks of DePauw traveled in Europe during last summer and studied the educational systems of that continent. Dean Smith attempted in the short time allotted to him, to contrast the American and European systems.

"To understand the differences between customs and people of two countries, you must get behind the mind and social organization of that country," Dean Smith said. "Their systems seem strange to us. But they are neither better nor worse, just different."

The speaker told of some of the strange customs such as using a bell instead of a gavel at meetings, stamping the feet for disapproval and shouting "Hear! Hear!" for approval. He told of some of the difficulties in registering in foreign universities and of visiting their schools.

In closing the speaker said, "In addition to knowing better the mind of those living in countries, it is also wise to know better thine own self."

BRUNER'S BOOK
WELL RECEIVED

Rev. B. H. Bruner is receiving many letters from all over the United States concerning the reception which his book "Pentecost: A Renewal of Power," is having among preachers and other church leaders. One day this week the two following letters came, which show how widely the book is being read and discussed:

From a colored student in Gannon Theological Seminary in Atlanta Georgia was this word, "I have been reading 'Pentecost: A Renewal of Power.' It is one of the finest books ever printed. This work has set me on fire with passion to convert many of my colored brethren."

In the same mail a letter from a preacher in Phoenix, Arizona, has this word: "I visited a conference of Methodist preachers and laymen this afternoon here as they were planning their program leading up to Pentecost. Bishop Charles Wesley Burns gave a wonderful address. He began by advising the preachers to get your book 'Pentecost: A Renewal of Power.' He said that he ordinarily would advise them to borrow a book from the district superintendent, but this book he would have them buy. He felt that it was an unusual book. . . . I do not know you, but my wife is a graduate of DePauw."

FOR STRING, SHOOTS SELF

The two children were standing on the shelf of a cupboard in the kitchen while searching for a piece of string on top of the cupboard. A .22 calibre rifle which was among other things on top of the shelf was accidentally discharged, the bullet striking the little girl in the neck and lodging in the throat. "I'm shot," she screamed and she was caught by her father as she toppled from the shelf. It is believed that she will recover.

to exert their powers to the fullest to preserve peace in the world by limiting the size of armed forces of the sea.

Members of the British cabinet sat immediately in front of the open end of the horseshoe table. Four hundred newspapermen from all over the world, whom the King faced, constituted the remainder of his immediate audience.

His majesty drove to the Westminster Palace in an ordinary limousine. Cheering throngs lined the entire route. The populace was not much interested in the fact that the most serious effort since 1922 to limit navies was about to begin, but was tremendously interested in the fact that the sovereign was undertaking his first official public duty since his severe illness.

The King entered the House of Lords by Norman Porch and proceeded by the grand staircase to the robing room. When he stepped across the threshold from the robing room into the royal gallery all those attending the opening session rose in their places. He then walked down the center of the gallery, between several rows of spectators on either side and took his seat on the throne chair.

GRANADA

"Seven Faces" Season's Hit—Paul Muni Interprets Many Impressive Characters of Paris Wax Works

"Seven Faces," Fox Movietone all talking production playing at the Granada Theatre tonight and Wednesday we believe will be one of the season's biggest hits.

It serves to introduce a new star, who, in the future, must be reckoned among the truly greatest of the talking screen medium.

He is Paul Muni, a newcomer to the screen after a highly successful career on the Broadway stage. He fulfilled the promise he gave in his first talking picture "The Valiant", and proved, that with a proper vehicle that he is perhaps the greatest character actor on the screen today.

In "Seven Faces," adapted from a brilliant story by Richard Connell, Muni portrays seven distinctly different characters, ranging from an old French caretaker of a wax works museum to such famous historical and legendary figures as Napoleon, Don Juan, Schubert, Joe Gans, Diablero the Great and Willie Smith.

Muni dominates the production at all times through his rare artistry, although there is a delightful love story cleverly woven into the texture of the picture.

Marguerite Church, another comparatively newcomer from the stage, previously seen in "The Valiant," "Pleasure Crazy" and "They Had to See Paris," with Russ H. Gleason carries the love interest. And a more delightful pair of young lovers it would be difficult to find. Both are healthy, wholesome types of American youth, utterly lacking the sophisticated appearance and mannerisms usually so disagreeably emphasized as representing typical young American.

Added to the program will be an all-talking Harry Langdon Comedy entitled "Sky Boy" and the Grantland Rice Sound Sportlights.

The High P. T. A. held a splendid meeting Monday evening. The first part of the meeting was devoted to business at which time Mrs. Howard Taylor gave a report of the city P. T. A. council meeting where plans were made for the anniversary meeting in February of all the P. T. A. meetings of the city. An out-of-town speaker will be here for the occasion.

In view of the fact that the High School P. T. A. has assumed the balance of the indebtedness a ways and means committee consisting of Mrs. Harry Wells, Miss Jane Farmer and Mrs. Earl Arnold to plan money-raising events. At present a picture show to be held soon has been planned.

Announcement was made of a short nursing course to be given soon which may be attended by any woman in the city. The course will include "Care of the sick room, bandaging, surgical dressing and first aid." Complete announcements of the course will be made at a later date.

After the business meeting Mrs. Ellington read a short story. This was followed by a very instructive health talk by Dr. John A. Egan.

Be moderate
AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW

AVOID THAT FUTURE SHADOW*

By refraining from over-indulgence, if you would maintain the modern figure of fashion

Fashion revels in the soft, enchanting curves of the modern figure. Don't sacrifice that graceful contour by permitting your eyes to be bigger than your stomach. Be moderate—be moderate in all things, even in smoking. Eat healthfully but not immoderately. When tempted to treat yourself too well, when your eyes are bigger than your stomach, light a Lucky instead. Coming events cast their shadows before. Avoid that future shadow by avoiding over-indulgence if you would maintain the modern, alluringly-rounded figure.

Lucky Strike, the finest Cigarette you ever smoked, made of the finest tobacco—The Cream of the Crop—"IT'S TOASTED." Everyone knows that heat purifies and so "TOASTING" not only removes impurities but adds to the flavor and improves the taste.

"Coming events cast their shadows before"

"It's toasted"

*Be Moderate!... Don't jeopardize the modern form by drastic diets, harmful reducing girdles, fake reducing tablets or other quack "anti-fat" remedies condemned by the Medical profession! Millions of dollars each year are wasted on these ridiculous and dangerous nostrums. Be Sensible! Be Moderate! We do not represent that smoking Lucky Strike Cigarettes will bring modern figures or cause the reduction of flesh. We do declare that when tempted to do yourself too well, if you will "Reach for a Lucky" instead, you will thus avoid over-indulgence in things that cause excess weight and, by avoiding over-indulgence, maintain a modern, graceful form.

REX MOFFETT

When the DePauw Tigers tackle the Butler Bulldogs tonight, these five men, who have started every DePauw game so far, will bear the brunt of the battle as usual. Captain Stunkel will hold down the back guard post. Marion Crawley of Greencastle will play floor guard.

CAPT. CHARLES STUNKEL

"Red" Mountz of Garrett will jump center. Ray Ragsdale of Washington and Rex Moffett, formerly of Bainbridge, will hold down the forward posts. With only three defeats this year, and victories over Indiana and Illinois to their credit, the Tigers hope to add another to their string tonight. The rivalry between the two schools is always keen, and Butler will do its best to cause the Tigers trouble.

HARDWOOD

HITS

We thought some of you fans might be interested in knowing just who were the high scorers in Saturday's Monon tournament. We intended to fix up a list yesterday, but didn't have time, and so here it is, better late than never. This list includes all who scored five points or more:

Tobin, Greencastle	18
LePlante, Jefferson	17
Albertson, Crawfordsville	13
Isbell, Bloomington	12
Crowe, Jefferson	12
E. Crawley, Greencastle	11
G. Crawley, Greencastle	11
Thompson, Crawfordsville	11
Layne, Crawfordsville	9
Smith, Bloomington	9
Holtman, Jefferson	8
Keller, Jefferson	8
Malasky, Crawfordsville	7
Coomey, Jefferson	7
Barton, Crawfordsville	6
Stone, Greencastle	5
Talbot, Bloomington	5

Tonight a battle royal ought to come off in the DePauw gym when the Butler Bulldogs try to chew up the DePauw Tigers.

Comparative scores, they say, don't prove anything. And this DePauw-Butler argument is a shining example of a case where you can't apply them. From one viewpoint, DePauw beat Franklin and Franklin beat Butler. Therefore, DePauw is about 20 points better than Butler on the strength of these two scores. From another viewpoint, Butler beat Wabash and Wabash beat DePauw, therefore, Butler is better. And so you go.

Well, after tonight we will know which is the better team. Maybe, that is. If DePauw wins we will know. If Butler wins we will still think DePauw is better.

Alleged Baby Slayer Faces Chair

UNFORTUNATE COINCIDENCE or cold blooded murder? Only Gladys Mae Parks, the "Sphinx Woman," can tell the real story behind the death of her two wards, Dorothy Rogers, aged 4, and two-year-old brother, Timmy. (The two little ones were left in Gladys Parks' care by their father, Allan Rogers, on the death of his wife, Dorothy's little body was found in the woods at National Park, N. J., and the dismembered body of the boy was found in a thicket in Absecon, N. J. Mrs. Parks, who admits that she is a self-proclaimed title, insists that the children met their death through accident, and that fear was the motive that prompted her disposal of the bodies.

Thus far the State has failed to prove any thing more than that holding in this district.

Mr. Bancroft was formerly in Y. M. C. A. work, having been for years secretary of the largest railroad Y in the country, developed by his own initiative and skill. He was also with the Y. M. C. A. overseas during the war and won a warm place in the affections of thousands of soldiers.

His addresses will be on the general theme of putting the men of the church to work. The slogan of the Brotherhood movement which he represents is "A Million Methodist Men Making the Mind of the Master their Main Motive and Mission."

LAYMAN LEADER OF BROTHERHOOD TO BE IN CITY

E. DOW BANCROFT, NOTED SPEAKER TO BE IN GREENCASTLE DISTRICT WEEK OF FEBRUARY 9

A Dow Bancroft, of Urbana, Ohio, the great layman leader of the Methodist Men's Movement and Brotherhood is to spend the week of Feb. 9 in the Greencastle District, which includes Terre Haute, Indianapolis, Danville, Brazil, Greencastle, Ind., according to arrangements just completed by District Superintendent Dr. A. T. Briggs with Dr. Bert Edward Smith, Executive Secretary of the Methodist Brotherhood with offices at 740 Rush Street, Chicago. Mr. Bancroft will spend the week in meetings at various points in the district with groups of ministers and laymen representing all the Methodist Churches of the District.

Mr. Bancroft is one of the truly great speakers of the Methodist Church. He has addressed some of the largest gatherings of Methodists in the history of the church, including the great Inter-M Methodist Men's Council held in Louisville by the northern and southern branches of Methodism last December. In the new interest in work for and by men which is sweeping the church he has addressed over one hundred thousand laymen and ministers in such group meetings and banquets as he will be

DEPAUW VIOLIN TEACHER IS CHOSEN AS SOLOIST

Miss Louise Palmer Walker, teacher of violin in the DePauw University school of Music, has been chosen soloist for the civic orchestra at Albion, Mich., for next Sunday's concert. The civic orchestra under the direction of Howard Harvey, is composed of both Albion college orchestra and the city orchestra.

Miss Walker will play Bruch's G. Minor Concerto and three lesser numbers on the program. To be chosen soloist for this orchestra is considered an unusual honor.

Miss Walker was additionally distinguished by being elected by DePauw University to appear on its fine arts program for next year. The fine arts numbers are usually the best things that can be obtained and are brought to the campus at a great expense. This year such numbers as the Aguilar Lute Quartette from Spain, the Ben Greet players, the Kiedroff Quartette of Russian singers appeared here.

MIRAGE BEAUTY SECTION TO BE MISSING THIS YEAR

The usual "beauty section" of the Mirage, DePauw University's year book published by the Junior class, will be missing. In its place will be the three most representative men of the campus and the three most representative women.

In the past the campus has voted or a committee has chosen what was considered the six most beautiful coeds of DePauw. The change this year will give the male contingent of the enrollment a representation. The Mirage will be off press near the close of the second semester and no announcement of the winners will be made until then. Richard Wurst of East Chicago is editor in chief of the publication.
